DORNEY PLAZA

A large, light-colored stone or concrete sign with the words "DORNEY PLAZA" engraved in a serif font. The sign is set into a low wall at the base of a sidewalk. In the background, there's a row of buildings, some with brick facades and others with more modern materials, along with some greenery and a street lamp.

WELCOME to FINDLAY AND HANCOCK COUNTY

Welcome to the Findlay-Hancock County region of northwestern Ohio! Situated on the banks of the Blanchard River, Findlay is the county seat of beautiful Hancock County. Altogether, Hancock County is composed of 11 villages, including Arcadia, Arlington, Benton Ridge, Findlay, Jenera, McComb, Mount Blanchard, Mount Cory, Rawson, Van Buren and Vanlue. We are proud of our region of more than 74,000, which boasts a rich history and heritage that span almost 200 years.

Findlay was named after Colonel James Findlay of Cincinnati, who built Fort Findlay in the War of 1812. After the war, the community was born and the first town lots were laid in 1821. Findlay later became known as a booming center for natural resources like gas and oil. For its part, Hancock County was named for American Revolution Patriot and statesman John Hancock, the first person to sign the Declaration of Independence.

By 1968, Findlay became known as a place passionate about patriotism, thanks to the initial efforts of Findlay resident John B. Cooke, a member of the Sons of the American Revolution. Patriotic to the core, Cooke believed in the value of flying the American flag. He rallied neighborhood residents and businesses to display a flag on Flag Day, June 14, 1968. Ultimately, the U.S. House of Representatives passed a resolution declaring that Findlay was indeed Flag City, USA.

Over the years, Findlay and Hancock County have become hubs for numerous corporations and innovations. Findlay is the headquarters of Marathon Petroleum Corp., MPLX LP, Cooper Tire & Rubber Company, Blanchard Valley Health System, and Whirlpool Corporation's dishwasher manufacturing plant is notably the largest dishwasher plant in the world.

For the fourth year in a row, Findlay has the distinction of being ranked the top micropolitan community in the U.S. for new and expanding facilities by Site Selection magazine. Strengthening our international ties, Findlay recently announced a Friendship City agreement with the Japanese city Kawaguchi. In addition to these milestones, Findlay has also been named one of Ohio Magazine's Best Hometowns of 2018-2019.

When you come to Findlay-Hancock County, expect to be greeted by people with big smiles and even bigger hearts. There is room to raise a family, grow a business and find your life's passion here. The educational system is strong, offering students of all ages room to learn and grow. Nightlife is vibrant. Festival seasons are nonstop and never ending. There are numerous parks for family gatherings and youthful energy. The Blanchard River offers boating, fishing and other water sports, and there are plenty of neighborhood shops, theaters, museums and restaurants to explore.

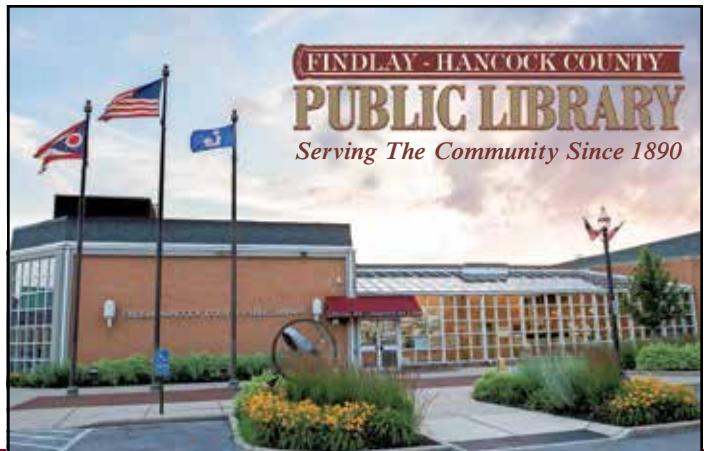

We are hopeful that when you enter the Findlay-Hancock County area, there will be no doubt that you have arrived exactly where you belong – right here, at home. Welcome!

Business and ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT

The Findlay and Hancock County community has seen steady economic growth over the past several years, and has no sign of stopping. Our growth can be measured in employment and wages, but those two measurements alone do not allow those who are unfamiliar with our community to understand just how unique we are.

For the past four years, Findlay has been ranked the No. 1 Micropolitan in the United States. There are nearly 600 Micropolitans in the U.S. that Findlay competes with annually, and we continue to come out first in capital investment, new jobs and new construction.

With convenient access to railways, interstates and airports, Hancock County provides the infrastructure conducive to business and growth. Findlay is centrally located to North America's automotive manufacturers and also has a strong logistics and distribution sector. McLane, Campbell's Soup, Lowe's, Kohl's, Home Depot and Best Buy operate over 5 million square feet of distribution space. →

Recently we've seen expansions from several companies in the area, including Cooper Tire, Veoneer-Nissin Brake Systems, Valfilm and Whirlpool. From large corporations like Marathon Petroleum, to family-owned manufacturers like DNC Hydraulics, Hancock County is home to very successful organizations.

As businesses expand within our community, so does the need for workforce and housing. The Raise the Bar organization is a partnership of education, business, social services and community leaders that work together to meet the growing demand for workers in our area. In the past year, several housing projects have been announced, including Liberty Ridge Apartments, Horizon Hillcrest Apartments, Crawford Station Apartments and Senior Homes of Findlay.

As we prepare for residential growth, it is important to create a downtown that is safe for people to work and live. Findlay's Main Street was recently revitalized, making it even more pleasant and safe. New mid-block crosswalks, seasonal foliage and the addition of new bike racks have transformed Downtown Findlay into a destination inviting to visitors who want to walk, shop, eat and relax.

All of these things set Findlay and Hancock County apart from most communities, but one of our most unique factors is our international community. Seven companies in our area are headquartered in Japan, in addition to three German, one Brazilian and one Danish company that all call Findlay home.

This year, cherry blossom trees were planted in Downtown Findlay's Dorney Plaza as a symbol of friendship between Japan and Findlay. Findlay recently announced a Friendship City agreement with the Japanese city Kawaguchi, which not only strengthens our bond with Japan, but also comes with the opportunity for a high school student exchange program.

Rural communities play a great part in the growth of the community as well. The Community Foundation has brought the Community Heart & Soul initiative to Hancock County, which allows residents to shape the future of their communities based on what matters most to them. Now, communities of every size, such as Mt. Blanchard and McComb, are seeing the benefits of local prosperity and renewed interest.

Our local government and economic development teams work closely with elected officials at all levels to ensure that we continue to provide a competitive environment not only to attract new businesses, but to sustain our already thriving companies. We call it the Findlay Formula: When government, business and nonprofits come together for a common agenda, great things happen. ▶

No matter what type of living you prefer, you can find it right here in Hancock County. If the country life is for you, you can build or buy your dream home and spend your days and nights enjoying the peace, quiet and calm of fresh-air country living. Maybe you enjoy neighborhood block parties where you can bring your famous potato salad and enjoy watching your kids play a friendly game of kickball with the other kids from your neighborhood. Perhaps you want to sit on your beautiful wrap around front porch sipping iced tea on your swing while you wave at people as they walk by enjoying a beautiful sunny day.

Do you enjoy loft living? If so, downtown Findlay offers many loft apartments that are within walking distance to shopping, dining and night life. If you are ready to downsize, Findlay and Hancock County offer condo communities that are ready to take the maintenance monkey off your back and provide you with worry free living in a safe environment.

If you've ever wanted to live on a golf course, then Hancock County is the place for you. Golf courses such as Shady Grove, Hillcrest, Red Hawk Run and the Findlay Country Club are surrounded by homes that offer a picturesque view of the beautiful, pristine fairways and smooth greens.

Home values have increased over 6 percent in the past year and are predicted to continue to rise in the year to come. If you're not quite ready to buy, Findlay and Hancock County is home to many apartment complexes and rental homes, duplexes and triplexes.

Hancock County has very active chapter of Habitat for Humanity. It began in August 1999 and their first home was dedicated in November 2000. Since then, the Hancock County Habitat for Humanity has built or repaired 90 homes in Findlay and Hancock County.

With so many ways to enjoy living in Findlay and Hancock County, it's no wonder we have been named one of Ohio's Best Hometowns and one of America's best places for kids. Now is the perfect time to see why people are happy to call Hancock County home. ▶

AGRICULTURE

The average sized farm in Hancock County is over 200 acres. Agriculture is very much alive and well in Hancock County and is an important part of communities throughout the county.

The Hancock County Fair takes place each year over Labor Day weekend. The fairground's leadership team continues to make improvements to the fairgrounds, including the Legacy Building, The Old Mill Stream Centre, and Recker Arena. Each year, hundreds of young people aged 8-18 participate in the Hancock County Junior Fair, with Livestock entries making up about 75 percent of the fair entries. By being a part of the Hancock County 4-H and FFA Programs, youth learn the fundamentals and foundations of agriculture, not just raising livestock. These young people are the bright future of agriculture right here in Hancock County.

Legacy Farmer's Co-op serves our farmers with 11 grain facilities, five agronomy locations and Legacy Lawn and Pet. In addition, it operates a propane delivery service and two petroleum cardtrol locations.

To celebrate the contribution of agriculture in our county, we host the annual Farmer's Share Breakfast. This event recognizes and honors outstanding contributions to agriculture by people in Hancock County, either as a farmer or agricultural related field. Each year they induct new members into the Agriculture Hall of Fame. Nominees for the Ag Hall of fame must have been born, grew up in, or currently reside in Hancock County and have at least 25 years of experience in agriculture.

The Hancock County OSU Extension office's agriculture and natural resources programs assist with technology, marketing, education and support for our county farmers. They help our agricultural community balance economic advancement with environmental sustainability. Local radio stations work with the extension office to produce Ag-Talk, a weekly program dedicated to providing education and information on agriculture related topics. The extension office also assists farmers with soil and water quality testing.

Our county is a proud supporter of agriculture and continues to champion the efforts of farmers and conservationist right here in our own backyard. ▶

Signature events only scratch the surface of what there is to do in Hancock County. Parades celebrating many occasions, such as Memorial Day, Fourth of July, Veterans Day and Halloween, frequently march on our downtown streets.

In August, hot air balloons will hit the sky during the Flag City BalloonFest. This popular family event brings thousands into the community. Guests will watch the balloons launch, see the magnificent glow and enjoy great food. The summer wraps up when the county joins together to celebrate the agricultural community and attends the Hancock County Fair.

Throughout the summer and fall, visitors are invited to Hancock County's villages and towns by attending one (or all) of the homecoming festivals held in the communities. McComb Cookie Festival, Arlington Village Festival, Rawson Proud, Heritage Day in Mt. Blanchard, Arcadia SummerFest, Bluffton Fall Festival and the Van Buren Apple Butter Fest all celebrate what is the best part of Hancock County: the people.

Even when the weather turns cold, the fun continues. The City of Findlay Tree Lighting ceremony the day after Thanksgiving marks the beginning of WinterFest. During WinterFest, visitors can take a horse and wagon ride through downtown and accomplish holiday shopping locally. Good boys and girls will have the opportunity to meet Santa, munch on cookies and sip hot chocolate at Kiwanis Santa's House. The holiday fun continues with community caroling around the City of Findlay Tree.

There is plenty of everyday fun year-round to be had in Hancock County as well. The Mazza Museum is home to over 10,500 pieces of children's book artwork, making it one of the most unique (and fun) museums you will ever visit. The Miracle League of Findlay is a nonprofit organization that provides children with disabilities the chance to play baseball, regardless of their abilities. Findlay's Miracle Park and Playground was home to the inaugural Miracle League All-Star Weekend, bringing in representatives from around the country and their family to cheer on their athlete. The Children's Museum of Findlay encourages children to use their imagination while learning at exhibits that celebrate the many different businesses and industries in Hancock County.

A drive through the countryside will be even more enjoyable for those on the Barn Quilt Trail. This self-guided trail will take you throughout the county on the lookout for these beautiful and colorful wooden squares that decorate the side of over 80 barns in every township.

A visit to any of the county or city parks is definitely time well spent. The Hancock County Park District provides programming throughout the year with diverse events offered every week. The Hancock Park District also runs Zonta Landing at Riverside Park, where guests can rent watercrafts in the summer for an afternoon on the Blanchard River.

The Hancock Park District not only organizes events, but also maintains beautiful parks throughout the county. From the dog park at Riverbend to the nature trails at Oakwood, there is plenty for you to enjoy. Several parks and facilities are maintained by the City of Findlay as well. Go ice skating at The Cube, enjoy Fort Findlay Playground at Emory Adams Park or walk along the Waterfall Pavilion at Riverside Park for an enjoyable time in every season. ▶

CULTURE and the Arts

While shopping and dining are high on everyone's list, arts and culture are equally as important. Findlay and Hancock County are home to many great theater and art programs throughout the year. Whether you are enjoying a show in the Marathon Center for the Performing Arts or Fort Findlay Playhouse, and whether you are enjoying a production featuring University of Findlay students, community actors or YouTheatre actors, you will be blown away by the talent right here in Hancock County.

Live music is popular at several spots in Findlay; stop by nearly any local restaurant on a weekend and enjoy your dinner or drinks with a side of crooning. Art lovers of all ages and tastes will enjoy the art shows hosted by the Findlay Art League, browsing the open galleries in the Jones Mansion or taking a class at one of the many downtown art studios. Plus, there are many events that are designed with the art and music lover in mind.

ArtWalk, which periodically throughout the year, is enjoyable for all. Browse downtown galleries and shops for different displays, demonstrations and shows. Summer music events are plentiful, and include weekly lunchtime concerts, mid-week outdoor Riverside Concert Series and end-of-week celebration Rally in the Alley all provide music to all ages.

There are also opportunities to celebrate history and culture in Hancock County. Visit the Hancock Historical Museum to learn about the history of the area. Different displays showcase the origins of Hancock County, with special exhibits featuring Hancock County conductors of the Underground Railroad, the oil boom of the 1800s, Findlay Glass and more – including a bathtub from the USS Maine, with a very interesting back story.

The Black Heritage Library and Multicultural Center is a Findlay gem, serving as a lending library and teaching museum, housing artifacts and resources about different cultures. It's also home to the Smithsonian Institute's Black Wings exhibit, the only library or museum in the world to be awarded so. The Black Wings exhibit features African-American aviators from early pioneers to the esteemed WWII Red Tails Tuskegee Airmen, up to the Space Shuttle Program. They also frequently host events during cultural holidays, like Kwanzaa, Cinco de Mayo and Juneteenth, and are supporters of International Day, which is put on by the University of Findlay. ▶

SHOPPING and Dining

Whether you have lived in Findlay and Hancock County your entire life, or are visiting for the day, the opportunities to enjoy your time are limitless. Visitors to Downtown Findlay will be able to shop until they drop and then refuel at one of the many great restaurants. No matter what type of cuisine those in your party are craving, there is a spot downtown that will satisfy it.

For visitors looking to enjoy a good drink and conversation, the opportunities are endless. With numerous cafes and coffee shops, wine bars, a bourbon bar, our own brewery and many great restaurants known for craft beer and delicious cocktails, an evening in downtown is sure to please.

After those in your party are stuffed with good food, make sure to stop into the local stores! Find the perfect outfit for a special occasion, a custom piece of jewelry that will set it off, a piece of artwork for your home or a gift for someone special – all are within walking distance in downtown.

However, the opportunities for great shopping are not just limited to downtown. Local shops dot Findlay, and great cuisine stretches county-wide. While you're out, try one of the several delicious pizzerias throughout almost every community in Hancock County. You definitely will not go hungry in Hancock County! ▶

EDUCATION

Hancock County has a very strong commitment to education. From preschool to post-secondary education, we offer many educational opportunities that prepare students to be productive members of our community.

We have stand-alone preschools and daycare centers that also offer preschool programs to prepare our kids for their school career. Hancock County school districts range in size from 250 total students to 5,000 students. If you prefer a private education, Heritage Christian School offers grades K-12 and St. Michael Catholic School and St. Wendelin School offer grades K-8. Findlay Digital Academy and Findlay Learning Center offer students in grades 9-12 an alternative learning environment. Most of the schools in Hancock County offer open enrollment.

Findlay City Schools built two-state-of-the-art, LEED-certified middle schools in 2012. Many other schools in Hancock County offer newer buildings and/or technology options that keep students engaged in learning.

Millstream Career Center is a LEED-certified, state-of-the-art Career Center, which opened in 2012. It serves 15 schools with 17 programs, including automotive technology, cosmetology, engineering and culinary arts. Students receive skills, certifications and training in high demand areas that allow them to join the workforce right out of high school and meet the needs of employers right here in Hancock County.

For those students with special needs, Blanchard Valley Center and the Center for Autism and Dyslexia offer specialized services to meet the learning needs of each student.

Hancock County is home to many post-secondary options, including Owens Community College, the University of Findlay and Winebrenner Theological Seminary. We are strategically located for commuter students who attend Bowling Green State University, Bluffton University, Tiffin University, Ohio Northern University, Rhodes State Community College and Heidelberg University.

Addressing workforce needs through community collaboration, Raise the Bar has introduced The Leader in Me program into our local schools. The Leader in Me is implemented to serve as a foundation for building soft skills, including leadership, responsibility, accountability, problem solving, adaptability, and teamwork.

Hancock County has a strong focus on education and is committed to preparing tomorrow's leaders. ▶

Findlay

WWW.FINDLAY.EDU

Blanchard Valley Health System is a nonprofit, integrated regional health system based in Findlay, a unique micropolitan community in Northwest Ohio. Governed by a community board of trustees representing large and small businesses, education, law, medicine and finance, BVHS oversees all operations.

With more than 125 years of service to the community, BVHS is prepared to meet the challenges of the 21st century. BVHS has grown from a single hospital to a comprehensive health system offering the Northwest Ohio region a full continuum of care. Blanchard Valley Hospital was named a Truven Health Analytics Top 100 Hospital in 2005, 2011, 2015, 2016, 2017 and 2018.

Blanchard Valley Health System is committed to focusing on providing quality care to the communities it serves, while providing fair pricing. BVHS provides a team approach to healing and believes visits from family and friends can be a significant factor in a speedy recovery. Blanchard Valley Health System earned a "Gold" level award from The Partnership for Excellence – Ohio, West Virginia and Indiana's Performance Excellence Program in 2016 and 2017.

Blanchard Valley Health System is composed of two hospitals, Blanchard Valley Medical Practices, Birchaven Village, Independence House, Bridge Home Health and Hospice, HANCO EMS, Beyond MedSpa and Northwest Ohio Medical Equipment. Blanchard Valley Medical Practices is a group of primary and specialty care physicians and providers owned by BVHS. Their medical practices are dedicated to providing extraordinary care to every patient who enters their doors. BVHS is here for you and your family every step of the way to provide care for a lifetime.

BVHS is one of the largest employers in the area with approximately 3,000 associates and serves an eight-county area that includes Hancock, Allen, Putnam, Henry, Wood, Seneca, Wyandot and Hardin Counties.

In addition, a dedicated group of more than 400 volunteers support BVHS through their contributions of both time and money. As part of the BVHS family, the Auxiliary is a major contributor to Blanchard Valley Health System's standards of excellence.

COMMUNITY Involvement

Volunteering is alive and well in Findlay and Hancock County. No matter what your passions might be, we have plenty of opportunities to make a difference right here in our own backyard.

The United Way of Hancock County is committed to measurably improving people's lives. They support numerous organizations who work to make our community a better place to live, work and play. They really do live up to their motto: Live United.

Our local churches support mission trips, serve community dinners and provide programs that help those who are not able to help themselves. Organizations like FOCUS Recovery & Wellness Community, the American Red Cross, Findlay Family YMCA, the Salvation Army, Open Arms Domestic Violence Shelter, Findlay Hope House for the Homeless, Cancer Patient Services, the Alzheimer's Association and City Mission are always looking for volunteers with varying skill sets to help them meet the needs of our community. As well as the LGBTQ+ Spectrum of Findlay, which is a non-profit designed to build a safe and supportive environment for the lesbian, gay, bisexual, and transgender community.

If you are looking to become a part of a service organization that supports causes right here in our own community, throughout the country and overseas, Hancock County is home to Rotary, Kiwanis, Altrusa, Zonta, Optimist and Lions Clubs just to name a few. If your passion is literacy, the Literacy Coalition of Hancock County and the Hancock County Public Library can always use some dedicated volunteers.

There are plenty of opportunities for networking within the business community here in Hancock County. Hancock Leadership and Hancock Youth Leadership, hosted by the Chamber of Commerce, are nine-month seminar programs that give participants a chance to explore and learn more about the core of our community. Findlay Young Professionals provides opportunities to network and socialize to build business relationships.

We are proud of our commitment to helping others and we are always willing to roll up our sleeves, dig right in and go to work to make the lives of those around us a little bit better for everyone in Hancock County. ▶

Choose Heminger HeartCare

You might not realize it, but you have one of the region's best cardiovascular centers here in Findlay. The Jane and Gary Heminger HeartCare Center at Blanchard Valley Health System has evolved into a destination location, offering expertise and technology that is as good if not better than our competitors.

Around here, you don't have to look for innovative cardiovascular care or travel out of town. It's right here in your own backyard.
