Using SMART Goals to Improve Your Marketing

How often do you set goals? Goal setting may seem like a boring or even tedious task but when you are a small business owner with a million things running at once, you need a way to mark what you are working towards. After all, you can't manage what you don't measure.

The Backyard Mission Trip is looking for volunteers in teams of 5 to 10 people to help with projects on Saturday, October 16, 2021. Out of an abundance of caution, we are asking that all volunteers wear masks while they are working on projects, even if the project is outside. For those projects that require volunteers to go inside a home, we ask that in addition to masking they be vaccinated against the Covid-19 virus. It is our sincerest desire to serve the people of our community that are in need in the safest way possible during these unprecedented times. Keeping in-line with that we will not be hosting a send off the morning of October 16. Instead, we ask that you join us for one of our Team Leader Meetings on October 4 or 12 at 6 PM at Habitat for Humanity to get all instructions about training necessary to lead your project.

America's Recovery: Powered by Inclusion

October is National Disability Employment Awareness Month – and this year's theme is "America's Recovery: Powered by Inclusion." As our economy continues to recover from the COVID-19 pandemic, it is important to recognize that a strong economy must include opportunities for American workers with disabilities.

Securing Your Remote & Hybrid Workforce

As we blend pandemic strategies with traditional workplace approaches, cybersecurity becomes the #1 mandate. The pandemic rapidly shifted the footprint of many companies and no matter the size of your organization, every company is vulnerable to data breaches. As
